140 Taffeta Silk Shirt-Waist Suits

One hundred Suits of the lot are in this season's latest styles. Good, reliable taffeta. Waists with short sleeves, open in the back. Front of the waist pin tucked and trimmed with three rows of lace across and two rows up and down.
The skirt is regular width and pin tucked.
All sizes in dark blue changeable effects, light blue, reseda and white. The manufacturers found themselves with too much silk left over at the end of the season, and to clean out everything, made the Suits up to sell at a low price.
The remaining forty Suits are of last season's stock, but in perfect condition. Black and various shades of brown. Original prices, $16.50 to $37.50.
Whichever Suit you select from the lot there'll be the satisfaction of knowing that you nor any one else has ever worn as good a value before at $8.98.
A slight charge will be made for any needed alterations. No suits from this lot sent on approval.

WILL SPRINKLE BROAD AND MAIN

That is Likely to Be Final Recommendation of Committee on Health.

TO HEAR RETAIL MERCHANTS
These Gentlemen Will Be Invited to Make Statements Regarding Dust Nuisance.

The Council Committee on Health for the nonce changed its meeting place, and instead of at the City Hall, held its semi-monthly session yesterday afternoon at the stables of the street cleaning department. Those present were Messrs. Hobson (chairman), Bennett, Cottrell, Donahoe, Gates, Cox, and others. The members informally inspected the buildings, premises, stock and other property of the department. To some of the members who have not visited the stables for a long time, the improved condition of everything excited their surprise. The stables buildings are white with new whitewash, the main roadway has been paved with granite spalls, all rubbish has been carried away and the grounds graded and cleaned, the whole being set off with a small square of green sward, with growing flowers, fenced off from the street by a low wall, and the property in nice order and cleaning and beautifying the grounds has been done under the instructions and personal supervision of Superintendent Henry Cohn, and the committee did not fail to recognize the permanent character of same and adopted a resolution commending and thanking Superintendent Cohn and the sub-committee on stables, consisting of Messrs. Satterfield, Grimes and Bennett, who have given him their hearty co-operation and support in all of the improvements made.

Some of the members of the Board of Health and street cleaning department and sundry bills amounting to $5,238.35, were audited and ordered to be paid.

Sprinkle Broad and Main.
The "Don Leavy" resolution for street sprinkling generally was discussed, and the letter of the Retail Merchants' Association, urging action along this line, was received.

Some of the members expressed the opinion that to accomplish sprinkling of all of the streets would prove impracticable and cost approximately from $60,000 to $100,000, which would prove too much of a burden for the city under present conditions. On the other hand, sprinkling the main streets, Main and Broad and cross streets between, and it is possible this will finally be recommended.

It is said that the sprinkling of unpaved streets, is not altogether desirable as in the hot weather the water will soon dry and some objectionable odor emanates from the street, which is about as unhealthy, if not more so, than the dust nuisance. On unpaved streets this is not the case.

The resolution was finally laid on the table to be considered at the next regular meeting when representatives of the Retail Merchants' Association will be invited to be heard.

There was some discussion as to the adoption of a plan to abate the nuisance complained of at the public dumps. No action was taken at this meeting but in all probability the matter will be taken up at the next meeting, and the conditions at these places improved.

CATCHY SONGS.

Number of Attractive Airs in the Musical Comedy at Bijou.

There are a number of attractive airs and catchy songs in the "Hills of Avenel" and it is hard to single out any one as the "hit" of this singing comedy. However, there are two which are going to be remembered not only for the music, but for the novel way in which they are handled. The first, "My Indiana Anna," is a duet between the two principals, and is assisted by a chorus of widows and a little girl named Patsy Palmer, who serves as the butt of Miss Fay's comedy. The other is "Why Don't You Marry," which is left to Miss Maud Earl, who is a sister of Virginia Earl. This number succeeds in being thoroughly enjoyed by all who hear it. It is a miniature song ball, seated in a small chair, sings the verse to the accompaniment of the piano. "Gals are 'Tid like to Have a Photograph of You," "In College, In Society," "Happy Days," and "The Hardy Guy Mary." The play will be seen at the usual hours during the remainder of the week.

RELATIONS AMICABLE BETWEEN VARSITIES

No Truth in Report That Relations Will Be Broken Off.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., May 16.—The report in circulation that the annual Virginia-Carolina "Thanksgiving" football game is off, because of Carolina's playing professionals is denied absolutely at the University of Virginia, both by Dr. LeFevre, chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics, and Manager Robinson, of the football team.

There has been some hitch, it is true, in arranging the annual football game between the two institutions, but the delay is due to the failure of the North Carolina Faculty Committee on Athletics to agree to code of eligibility rules adopted by Virginia's soon after the Christmas holidays.

Virginia has twice accused Carolina of playing professionals, and the delay is due to the failure of the North Carolina Faculty Committee on Athletics to agree to code of eligibility rules adopted by Virginia's soon after the Christmas holidays.

Athletics at Virginia are now under complete control of the faculty, and one of the clauses in the new code of rules adopted by the faculty is for Virginia to play only teams that are free from professionalism. No charges whatever have been made against Carolina, and just as soon as the faculty committee of the two universities get together the contest will no doubt be arranged as usual.

As far as is known the best of feeling exists between the athletic organizations of the two institutions, and the breaking off of athletic relations would be deeply regretted by the student bodies of both Virginia and Carolina.

WILL REPRESENT RICHMOND TYPOS

Messrs. Giles Courtney and Forest Mitchell Honored by Number Ninety.

At a largely attended meeting yesterday of Typographical Union, No. 99, Messrs. Giles Courtney and Forest Mitchell were elected to represent No. 99 at the International Typographical Convention, which meets in Colorado Springs, Col., in August.

Mr. Courtney is connected with The Times-Dispatch composing room, and this is the second year in succession that he has represented the union at the annual convention. Last year, Mr. R. Leon Woody represented No. 50 at the convention in Canada.

An effort will be made to bring the international body to Richmond for 1907. The organization is composed of five hundred delegates, and a company of from two to three thousand people go with the body, which pays its way and leaves thousands of dollars in every city it enters.

Watch dogs were presented to Messrs. John A. Lamb and L. O. Wendenburg as an expression of No. 99's appreciation of their services in the recent litigation growing out of the strike. The presentation speech was made by President M. R. Poon, and Messrs. Lamb and Wendenburg responded. Major Saville, who was present, also spoke.

TO ELECT THREE BISHOPS TO-DAY

Attention of All Methodism Centered on Action of Conference at Birmingham.

THE MINISTERIAL TIME LIMIT

Advocates of Change Hopelessly in Minority—Hits at "High Steeple Preachers."

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BIRMINGHAM, ALA., May 16.—The consideration of the matter of the abolition of the ministerial time limit, which had been discussed in the church papers for several months before the meeting of the General Conference, and which promised to be one of the liveliest issues before the body, took place at to-day's session, and, as had been predicted, proved to be the fuse for the setting off of an exhibition of oratorical pyrotechnics.

But the advocates of the measure, when polled, fell hopelessly in the minority. The lay delegates voted almost solidly against the measure, and several of the most brilliant speeches against it were by laymen.

The intemperate "giraffe" or "high steeple preacher," as he is called, the man who transfers from conference to conference when the choice places become scarce in the bounties of his home conference, came in for his share of criticism, and it was alleged that the movement had its origin in a desire to care for this class, who could then have good places with less inconvenience to themselves.

A large majority of the clergy, much to the surprise of the advocates of the change, was also lifted up against the change, and when the vote was finally taken the four-year limit was finally intact. The recommendation of the majority of the committee for an extension of the limit to six years was likewise defeated.

Election of Bishops.

The election of bishops, the feature of the conference, which has ever since body assembled, attracted the closest attention of delegates and the interest of the membership of the church throughout the South, is scheduled for to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. To-night speculation as to who will be chosen is rife, and rumors of various natures are in the air.

To say who will be elected is more than any man in attendance upon the sessions could do. The hotel corridors are filled with delegates and the predominating topic of conversation is the probabilities and possibilities. Almost every man seems to have a different idea as to the result, and it is impossible to make a slate with any degree of accuracy. Nevertheless, those most prominently spoken of are Dr. James J. Tigert, Dr. Collins Denny, Dr. J. C. Kilgo, Dr. W. E. Tillett, Dr. James Atkins, Dr. Seth Ward and Dr. W. F. Murray.

Report Adopted.

The principal discussion of the afternoon session was on the report of the Committee on Publishing Interests, which recommended that the number of official organs of the church be reduced and that conferences contiguous to each other be consolidated into one paper, whenever practicable. This report was vigorously opposed by Mr. Charles M. Armstrong, of the Baltimore Conference, and more vigorously advocated by Rev. Dr. James Cannon, Jr., of the Virginia Conference. The report was overwhelmingly adopted, and is in line with the memorial sent up from the Virginia Conference.

Another important memorial from the Virginia Conference has been reported favorably by the Committee on Itinerancy, giving the conference mission boards the right to employ suitable men to do evangelistic work. If adopted by the conference, which seems likely, this will greatly stimulate the home mission work of the church. The Virginia delegation consider this to be one of the most important measures before the General Conference. It is in line with the Virginia Conference would have a representative on the Committee of Entertainment, which will decide the place of holding the next session of the General Conference.

Help Pacific Advocate.

Bishop Chas. B. Galloway presided at to-day's session. The itinerary committee reported conference in a memorial from the Japan mission conference, asking that the same exceptions in regard to the time limit be extended to the Japanese preachers as those now made in the case of missionaries of other foreign stations.

A report from the publishing committee provides that the book committee shall have authority to extend assistance to the editor of the Christian Advocate and to the book editor.

The same committee recommended that "as prices of material and labor had advanced in San Francisco as a result of the earthquake, that $50.00 be appropriated to the Pacific Methodist Advocate to be expended by this organ in the next four years." The same committee reported concurrence in the recommendation that the conference authorize further expenditure for an enlarged building at Shanghai, China. The church extension committee recommended the reduction of the board of insurance from 11 to 7.

Observance of Sabbath.

The committee on American Bible Society recommended non-concurrence in memorials seeking to dissuade the society from publishing the American standard revised version of the Bible. The special committee on Sabbath observance presented a report admonishing

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

City is All Agog Over the Clear Water Proposition.

THE FREE BRIDGE MATTER UP

Mr. Clarence Vaden Said to Be Interested in Floating Bonds.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, 1102 Hull Street.

Between the ordinance offered Tuesday night, providing for the issue of bonds to the amount of $250,000 for the erection of a free bridge on the Mayo's bridge site, and the feasibility of accepting one of the plans submitted by the filtration concerns for the building of a filter plant, Manchester citizens had a plenty to talk about yesterday, and it would be hard to say which of the subjects had the more advocates.

Practically every man, woman and child in the city is interested in the clear water proposition. And from the present outlook it appears as though the city will have clear water before the winter. Five bids have been received and opened and the companies who want to build up filtering plants from the city have sent special representatives here to advocate the different plans.

One or two of the companies presented two or three bids, some higher than the others, in conformity with the grade of work.

To-morrow night the special clear water committee will meet for the purpose of taking the entire lot. They will be four per cent, fifty-year bonds, and Manchester will be responsible for them.

Mayo's bridge can be purchased for something like $120,000, and another bridge, four feet higher than the present one, can be built in every way, can be erected at about the same cost.

Another matter of great interest in this connection is the fact that the Hull Street cars will cross Mayo's bridge, and not over the free bridge into Seventh Street in Richmond, if a new bridge is built. This will mean much to many working people of Manchester, and will save them from ten to fifteen minutes in getting to and from their work.

Arranging for Bazaar.

The committee that has in charge the arrangement of the programme for the bazaar under the auspices of Washington Camp, No. 32, Patriotic Sons of America, is about perfecting all of the details. The bazaar will begin on the 25th in Cersley's Hall, in Swansboro, and promises to be an entertaining to every one who attends.

The camp will meet Friday night and initiate twelve new members.

Personals and Briefs.

Mrs. Gertrude White entertained the Euchre Club at her home Tuesday night. After a pleasant visit to friends, Mrs. Jones, a while man who keeps a lighter in the river, will take Mayor Maurice this morning why he has been drunk for some time.

William Shepperson, a negro, was fined $10 in Police Court yesterday morning for being disorderly.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Dalton have moved into their new home, No. 2818 Semmes Avenue.

Mrs. William Danson and her two daughters, of Cumberland, Md., are visiting Mrs. William McDermott, of Twelfth Street.

Mr. G. W. Payne, of Eighth and Decatur Streets, was stricken with paralysis yesterday morning. This is the second stroke, and fears for his recovery are entertained.

Mr. G. C. Jones, dispatcher and acting cashier for the Western Union Telegraph Company, will shortly leave the service of the company and go with the Western Union Telegraph Company as operator. He has many friends in the city, and is highly respected by his present employers.

Hedra Connelley, Improved Order of Hebeles, will meet to-night and make arrangements for memorial service to be held the first meeting night in June.

TWOICE IN AN HOUR.

Grant Says He Will Put Kelly's Shoulders to Mat Monday.

Joe Grant, the Baltimore champion wrestler who is to meet Charlie Kelley here on the mat next Monday night, will arrive in Richmond Sunday with his manager.

Kelly is in the very best of condition and believes that he will be able to hold his own with Grant who claims to be one of the best.

The wrestling bout will be under the rules as catch-as-catch-can. The men will wrestle about one hundred and sixty-five pounds each.

The contract is that Grant is to throw Kelly twice within one hour or forfeit his share of the receipts. Through a typographical error, it was said a few days ago that the two falls would be in half an hour. Grant, even with his superb muscular development, does not believe that he can place Kelly's shoulders on the mat twice in less than an hour.

And Kelly says that if he touches the mat at all with his broad shoulders, he will be more surprised than any person in the audience.

The match will be in Sanger Hall and will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

MORE CONTRIBUTIONS FOR SUFFERERS' AID

Several Handsome Donations Made Yesterday.

The contributions to the San Francisco relief fund have not ceased, and during the last two days more money has come into the hands of the treasurer, W. M. Hill, to the amount of $1,140.84. The citizens of Alexandria, Va., sent in $704.39. The Bijou Theatre, Hales Tour of the World, and the Young Wonderland, through Mr. Jack Wells, contributed $324, and the Star of the East Syrian Society contributes $50.

BODIES CREMATED IN HORRIBLE FIRE

Spark from Engine Reached Barrel of Oil Situated Amid Lumber.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PULASKI, VA., May 16.—News was received here to-day of a horrible fire at Stock Creek, three miles from Allsion, last night, which resulted in death and cremation of a man named Sherman Montgomery, about 25 years old, and Lewis Gallimore, a boy, about twelve years old.

The parties worked at Robert Shelton's saw-mill, and occupied a small shanty near the mill, around which there were stacked lumber and considerable quantities of lumber and shingles. It is supposed that during the night fire from the engine made its way through the trash and reaching the oil started a conflagration that was so rapid and fierce that the man and boy sleeping in the shanty were overcome without warning.

The bodies were entirely consumed, except the skull and a portion of the trunk. The engine, mill, sheds and track were totally destroyed, and it was not until late this morning that any one discovered that there had been a fire.

Montgomery leaves a wife and two small children.

MUCH TALK ABOUT RICHMOND'S GAS

Joint Finance and Light Committees Go Up-Hill and Down Again.

REPORT IS RECOMMENDED

Work of Rehabilitating Gas Plant Remains in Hands of the Sub-Committee.

The Council Committee on Finance and the Committee on Light held a joint meeting last night to hear and act upon the report of the joint subcommittee which had been appointed to consider and report upon a plan of action looking to the rehabilitation of the gas works. It was expected that this meeting would be an exceedingly important one, in that it would practically start the work of rehabilitating Richmond's lighting plant, but it did not turn out that way. Nearly all the members of the two committees were present, and it was a subject of remark that it was one of the best attended committee meetings recently held. This was sufficient evidence that great interest is felt in the gas question, but the meeting accomplished nothing. The committee simply walked up the hill and down again, leaving the whole matter where it had been for some time in the hands of the joint subcommittee.

At the very outset it became manifest that nothing could be accomplished. Mr. G. K. Pollock, of the Finance Committee, and a member of the joint subcommittee, claimed that he had received no notice of the subcommittee meeting, and in making this complaint gave evidence that he was opposed to the report, which he knew the committee would make, which report he would have opposed had he been at the meeting.

Mr. Pollock thought the subcommittee had acted hastily and had not given the matter of rebuilding the gas works the mature consideration its importance and the amount of money involved demanded.

Chairman Wood explained that he had done his best to give all interested parties a chance to be heard at the meeting. He also explained his anxiety to get the work of rehabilitating the gas works in some kind of shape before the present Council passes hence, believing that such action is necessary in order to prevent a year's delay in the reconstruction of giving the people better light service.

Sub-Committee's Plan.

After considerable discussion in an informal way and several propositions to reconvene the subcommittee to give Mr. Pollock a hearing, all of which were withdrawn at Mr. Pollock's request, the subcommittee's report was called for. It is as follows:

"Your subcommittee recommends that the firm of R. W. Hunt and Company, of New York, be employed as engineers to report on the needs, etc., of the gas works, as per their proposition under date of October 10, 1905, with the understanding that they assign Mr. James S. McIlhenny to this work, who shall be jointly associated with Mr. W. P. Knowles, Superintendent of the Gas Works, in ascertaining the requirements, and in carrying out the plan of reconstruction and appliances as they may agree upon as necessary to put the works in a first-class up-to-date condition in every particular, and report to the joint special committee as soon as possible."

Robert W. Hunt and Company's proposition, referred to in the report, was set forth in a letter dated May 7th and written from the Jefferson Hotel. The letter covers three typewritten pages, and contains an outline of the plan of reconstruction and appliances as they may agree upon as necessary to put the works in a first-class up-to-date condition in every particular, and report to the joint special committee as soon as possible.

Under Mr. White's motion the subcommittee is instructed to invite bids from gas engineers and experts for the work of investigating the condition of the Richmond gas works, and to do what is necessary to do in order to make the gas works an up-to-date plant.

The leading question was not referred to during the meeting, but one reading between the lines of the report is not readily overlooked that the question is not entirely dead.

FEAR REGISTRATION.

The Voting List of Mecklenburg is Growing Smaller.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HOYDTON, VA., May 16.—The registration for Mecklenburg took place yesterday. At this precinct only two registered voters were on the list. There were only three who applied. It is a singular fact that all classes, white and colored, dread the test of registering, and when doing so become rather nervous. It is an easy matter. The registration list in Mecklenburg is scarcely as large as it was four years ago, for the reason that many on the list have died, while so few new names have been added.

The Emiline a Crack Boat.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
IRVINGTON, VA., May 16.—The iron steamer yacht, "Emiline," recently purchased in New York by Virginia Board of Fisheries as a flag-ship for the oyster navy, arrived in Carter's Creek on Monday last. She was towed by the tug, "Hauled here, and later he taken to Norfolk for some changes in her deck. She will be a beauty when fixed up. It has been said that the State saved $10,000, and dollars on the deal made by the Board of Fisheries.

The boat was brought through the canal under her own steam by Captain W. L. Massick, of this place. The chairman and secretary of the board were on board. The secretary got off at Delaware City.

Tribute of Respect.

At a called meeting of the Loyal Street Teachers' Association, held on the 15th of May, 1906, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we have placed an all-wise though inscrutable, Providence to take from our midst our beloved and honored friend and co-worker, Mrs. Virginia Walton Brown:

Whereas, Both in her character as an instructor of growing mind and other principles of life, she has shown to us a self a place in our hearts, which cannot be filled; and

Whereas, In her death, though sudden and unexpected, coming at the culmination of a year's work well done, was a fitting close to a useful life, and an end which crowned the life with a halo; and

Resolved, 1. That while humbly bowing before God's will, we, the members of Loyal Street Teachers' Association, cannot but feel the loss occasioned by the removal of one whose broad charity and sunny disposition shone in all the walks of life in which we knew her, and whose Christian character was evident to all with whom she came in contact.

Resolved, 2. That this community at large has been deprived of a good and useful woman, whose influence has always been for good, and who has been a blessing to the community for many years.

Resolved, 3. That we extend heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved loved ones and to the family of the deceased, and be able to sustain and comfort in this great grief, and who alone can heal the broken-hearted.

Resolved, 4. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records, a copy be sent to her family, and a copy be published in the Daily News-Daingerfield and the Richmond Times-Dispatch.
